DETAILED ACTION

1. In the 10/11/06 telephonic interview with the previous examiner, applicant has elected to examination the claims drawn to the method, i.e., claims 23-47. Upon review by the current examiner noted that the instant application is further subject to the following species/subspecies election requirement.

Election/Restrictions

2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

- A: The embodiment as shown in Fig. 2
- B: The embodiment as shown in Fig. 3.

The species are independent or distinct because there are alternative processes for the claimed invention and they have mutually exclusive characteristics.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 23 appears to be generic.

3. Upon election of one of the species identified above as A and B, applicant is further required to elect one of the following sub-species of the material to be detected, for purposes of examination.

- C: Wherein the material is an explosive.

- D: Wherein the material is a controlled substance.

This additional requirement is to facilitate examining due to the diverse materials disclosed as suitable for detection (e.g., see claim 23).

4. If sub-species C is elected, applicant is further required to elect a single sub-species of the explosive, for purposes of examination. For example, applicant may elect TNT alone or RDX alone. This additional requirement is to facilitate examining due to the diverse explosives disclosed as possible (e.g., see claim 44).

5. If sub-species D is elected, applicant is further required to elect a single sub-species of the element comprising the controlled substance, for purposes of examination. For example, applicant may elect carbon alone or oxygen alone. This additional requirement is to facilitate examining due to the diverse elements disclosed as possible (e.g., see claim 43).

6. If either one of sub-species C or sub-species D is elected, applicant is further required to elect a single sub-species of the confounder, for purposes of examination. For example, applicant may elect nylon alone or food alone. This additional requirement is to facilitate examining due to the diverse materials disclosed as possible (e.g., see claim 47).

7. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

8. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103 (a) of the other invention.

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Rick Palabrica whose telephone number is 571-272-6880. The examiner can normally be reached on 6:00-4:30, Mon-Thurs.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Jack Keith can be reached on 571-272-6878. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
